INTRODUCING STUART INTERIORS

Thank you for requesting a copy of our furniture portfolio.

Celebrating over 35 years as specialists in the design and creation of bespoke oak furniture, the following collection of over 40 designs represents the variety of items created in our workshop during this time.

In almost every case the designs are inspired by surviving original pieces or recreated from period illustrations from the Medieval, Tudor, Renaissance, Elizabethan, Stuart or Jacobean eras.

Our passion lies in finding inspiration from historically beautiful designs and creating pieces of furniture that match the exact requirements of our clients, whether this be a magnificent tester bed, a technical cabinet to house 21st century audio-visual equipment or a set of exquisite dining furniture.

Our furniture is divided into categories: Seating, Tables, Cupboards, Beds and Bespoke Commissions, with each piece having its own numbered code for easy reference. The sizes indicated are optimum and can, of course, be altered to suit your requirements.

Each piece of Stuart Interiors' furniture is individually hand-made to order, using finest quality, quarter-sawn European oak. Each piece is constructed traditionally using the age-old skills of the joiner, producing a unique item. Equal to the importance of authentic design and construction is the skill required in the selection of natural timber. We are proud of the close relationship we have with our timber yard. Each of our craftsmen understand the value placed on selecting only the finest certified mature oaks from carefully managed forests.

Butts are selected and sawn to our specification, enabling us to offer outstanding quarter-sawn oak of the finest quality.

Our furniture is wax polished by hand prior to leaving the workshops. Further waxing and polishing in the years to come will continue to build the patina and enrich the beauty of the grain, adding to your enjoyment and enhancing its value.

We hope you are inspired by what you see and look forward to discussing your requirements in further detail - we would be pleased to advise on all the options available to you.

SEATING

Whether you're looking to commission a set of dining chairs, a single carver chair or a majestic Knole Settee, we can design and make any kind of seat to suit.

Traditionally made and upholstered, each of the designs you find here has been inspired by a beautiful period original.

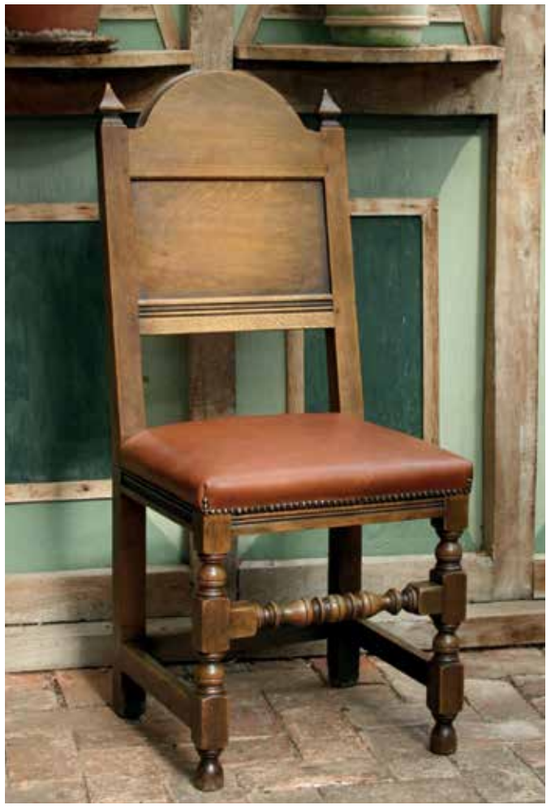

We can amend any design or size to match your exact requirements, or you can commission something entirely unique.

We are proud to receive regular commissions from many private clients and our chairs can also be found at The Tower of London, Hampton Court Palace, Stirling Castle, Bath Abbey and many other important heritage buildings.

Prices shown exclude any top cover fabric and trimmings. You can supply your own fabric or choose from our range of period designs. Please contact us for further details.

Please note – the published prices for designs marked * are valid for a minimum order quantity of 6 chairs. Please contact us to enquire about the price of single chairs.

TABLES

There is no comparison to dining at a traditionally made, solid oak table. It is an object to treasure and its patina improves with each use year on year.

Whether your preference is for a simple trestle table, or something more elaborate with carved detail, we can design and make a table which matches your exact requirements in terms of size and style.

The following collection of designs are typical commissions we have created for private clients and heritage organisations alike.

From a simple 6-foot trestle table for a country kitchen, to a 20-foot long banqueting table for a Cumbrian Castle and even a replica of Lord Nelson's extending table for HMS Victory, we can create an oak table for you that will be treasured for generations to come.

CUPBOARDS, CHESTS AND COFFERS

We are fortunate that so many original examples of period cupboards, chests and coffers are still in existence.

Our expertise lies in finding the most interesting historic designs and recreating them today to a size and functionality which exactly matches your requirements.

Cabinets can be designed to incorporate hidden audio-visual equipment or any other necessities of modern living.

Pieces can include hand-carved or inlaid detail, perhaps a commemorative date or set of initials. Any required ironwork is hand-forged to order, again adding to the uniqueness of each piece.

BEDS

Some of our most interesting and exciting commissions are for beds. Through the ages, the bed has been synonymous with style and status. Commissions include an interpretation of the early medieval bed of King Edward I for the Tower of London, Lady Stepney's 18th century full tester for Llanelly House and a replica of the magnificent Corbet Bed of 1593, part of the V&A Collection.

Whether you require a simple, half headed bestead for a country retreat or have grand ideas for a full oak tester with elaborate carved detail, contact us today to discuss your requirements, we would be pleased to advise on all the options.

We can also offer a full range of period style textiles and trimmings and a complete upholstery service should this be required.

Please note, all prices quoted are for bedframes only and exclude mattresses and upholstery.

BESPOKE COMMISSIONS:

BOG-OAK KNIGHT

When a client dreamed up an idea of having a knight as the supporting corner post for the private bar at his home in the USA, we were thrilled to take on the commission.

Our recommendation was to design and create a fine figure of about four feet in height, not from our usual oak, but from 6,000-year-old bog oak, excavated from deep within the Somerset Levels.

Over thousands of years, the oak is preserved by the peat bogs which cocoon it. It takes on a very dark, almost black stain due to the high levels of tannin within the moors. The result is a fascinating natural material with an unusual and beautiful patina.

Working closely with our client, we produced preliminary sketches of the knight for approval prior to commencing the carving. Our Master Carver spent around one month creating the figure and it has been hand finished using a traditional and simple beeswax polish.

He now stands proudly on the bar he was intended for, to be admired for many years to come.

BESPOKE COMMISSIONS:

ST. ANDREW'S ORGAN CASE

This was a wonderfully unusual commission for the west end of the nave at St Andrew's Church, in the parish of Melcombe Horsey, Devon.

Taking inspiration from designs typical of the 17th century, Stuart Interiors designed and made the oak casing for the organ and a complimenting stool.

Hand carved details include the S-Link design used at the top of the organ casing and Lunette frieze carved into the stool.

Working closely with our client, we took full site dimensions to allow us to prepare proposal drawings. The casing and stool are made from 1st quality, quarter sawn European oak, finished to match the exact requirements of our client.

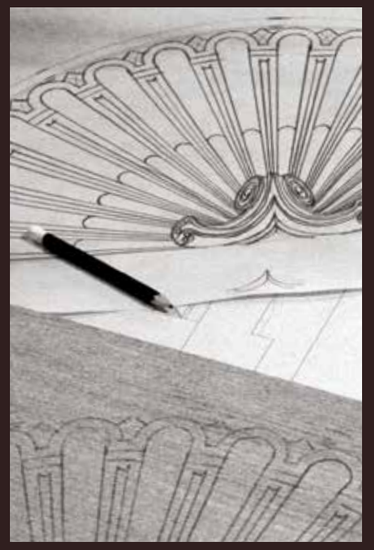

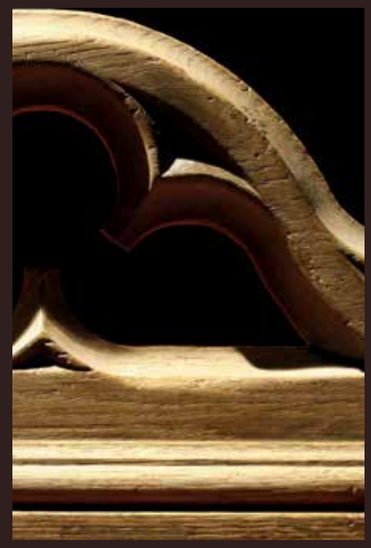

We are proud to have been commissioned to make a positive difference to the interior of this lovely church and to know our work will be admired for many generations to come.
